Medical.

DR. J. C. YOUNG,

edical and Surgical

INSTITUTE.

CONSULTATION, IN ALL CASES, FREE

CURES GUARANTEED, OR NO PAY REQUIRED

IN ALL CASES WHERE CONFIDENCE IS REQUIRED THE UTMOST SECRESY MAINTAINED.

The above rules, established Dr. J. C. Young in 1850, d which have done so much secure the reputation of this [illegible], are still adhered to, fording those in need of dical aid, the certainty of re and the utmost confidence. There is nothing of so great portance to the sick as to ow where to find a physian whose skill and humanity [illegible] arance of proper and licate treatment. The Docwould respectfully call the [illegible] of those of both sexes ho are suffering or in trouble the invariable success that s marked the career of the stitute in the seventeen years its existence. It is unnecessary in this con[illegible] to enumerate all the mplaints treated at the In[illegible], but the Doctor feels it duty to call especial attenn to that terrible scourge, SEMINAL WEAKNESS, [illegible] is sapping with its in[illegible] the very life of its [illegible]; in the treatment and re of which the Institute has [illegible] so enviable a reputa[illegible].

READ! READ

[illegible] aware that by dwelling upon so unenviting a sub[illegible] through the loss of the [illegible] of life, the ignorant may asperse my me[illegible] to point out to those who suffer, [illegible] the true cause of their affliction, is too [illegible] into abeyance. How ex[illegible] of Seminal Weakness is, no [illegible] who devotes his time to its [illegible], but its [illegible] can be detected by [illegible] noting the [illegible] symp[illegible] of the back and limbs, languishing [illegible] irritability [illegible] by hot hand; symptoms [illegible] breath; flushings of the face; aver[illegible] confusion of the mind, loss of memory, [illegible] slight discharges upon the [illegible] palpitation of the heart, ir[illegible] temper, etc. [illegible] any of the various [illegible] The [illegible] which you may secure [illegible] You may feel strong now, but if [illegible] the vice of self-abuse even to the [illegible] the seeds of weakness in your [illegible] influence will, sooner [illegible] the fair edifice of your strength to the [illegible] abject being. It is not a [illegible] itself at once. Therein lies its great[illegible] while the patient is being treated for some [illegible] Lungs, Brain, or Digestive func[illegible] debility that soon adds him [illegible] of the terrible [illegible] Seminal [illegible] form and [illegible] steps, the poor [illegible] Mark the course of the [illegible] in the hollow cheek and dull eye! How the Democratic Nominations were Received

CHICAGO, July 9.—Considerable interest was manifested yesterday at the progress of the Democratic Convention at New York in the choice of a candidate for the Presidency. When finally it had been learned that the nominations of Seymour and Blair had been made, the result brought causing general surprise and remark [illegible] of no excitement, no enthusiasm. People had little to say in favor of the nominees, and it was apparent that the hopelessness of the strife against such candidates as Grant and Colfax was generally conceded. An attempt was made to form a ratification meeting last evening, but in consequence of the apathy which was everywhere plainly manifest, the undertaking was given up as a bad job.

ST. LOUIS, July 9.—By the aid of a brass band and many drums, by the aid of the [illegible] artillery and fireworks, a few—perhaps two hundred Democrats, with about twice that number of individuals—were gathered at the east front of the Court House to ratify the nomination of Seymour and Blair by the New York Convention.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 9.—The Democracy of Terre Haute became so indignant yesterday at the abandonment of Pendleton by the Indiana delegation for Hendricks that they called an indignation meeting at the Court House. Mayor Cookerly presided. Several speeches were made by prominent Democrats, all of whom denounced the conduct of the Indiana delegates as a base betrayal of the Democracy, and Mr. Voorhees came in for his share of denunciation. A committee was appointed to draft resolutions, and the following dispatch was telegraphed to New York:

"TERRE HAUTE, IND., July 8.

To Hon. Wash. McLean, Pendleton Headquarters, Fifth Avenue Hotel, New York:

"At a mass meeting of the Democracy of this city held this evening, the following resolution was unanimously adopted and ordered to be telegraphed to the delegation:

Resolved, That we denounce and utterly repudiate the action of the majority of the Indiana delegation of the New York Convention, that they have proved false to the trust imposed in them to the interests of the Western Democracy, and we demand of them to change their votes to Pendleton, who evidently is the choice of the Democratic people of Indiana.

G. F. COOKERLY,
SAM'L C. DAVIS,
JAS. B. EDMUNDS,
Committee."

At the conclusion of Mayor Cookerly's remarks, the following death blow to Dan Voorhees' Congressional aspirations was offered and unanimously adopted by a rising vote, emphasized with applause:

Resolved, That we, the Democracy of Terre Haute, will not support any one of the Indiana delegates who has proved false to the sentiments of the people.

The nominations of Seymour and Blair are a sad and bitter disappointment to the Democracy, and the delight of Republicans. The former were already in a state of demoralization over the split that occurred [illegible] Pendleton and Hancock. It is now conceded that Indiana is safe for the Republican National and State tickets.

TOLEDO, July 9.—The news of the nominations in New York was received here with a sort of disgusted enthusiasm. The feeling here was strongly Pendleton, and the defeat of that candidate occasions some dissatisfaction in the Democratic ranks. A prominent Democratic banker here offered to bet large sums that Seymour would be elected. His bets were taken to a considerable extent. This evening it is the report that when he was called upon to place money in the hands of a stakeholder he refused to do so, throwing up the bets. The Democrats are firing cannon now in ratification, having succeeded in getting a small crowd on the street. The enthusiasm is not great.

DES MOINES, July 9.—The Democrats here are quite grum over the nominees. Their enthusiasm is of the ice water sort. They swear at Seymour, but when it came to Blair they were still more bitter. They mourn the death of their Absalom, their Pendleton, and cannot conceal their chagrin at being bossed by the Wall streeters. They attempted to raise a pole this afternoon. Thirteen persons were present by actual count, and the pole, which is a little knotty hickory thirty feet long, went up with the weakest cheer ever raised in the town.

KANKAKEE, July 9.—The nomination of Seymour and Blair falls like a wet blanket on the Democracy of Kankakee, and many declare emphatically that they will not vote the ticket. An attempt was made this evening at a ratification meeting, but in vain. The cheers for Grant and Colfax, made by the juveniles attracted by the band, was larger and more enthusiastic than that of the Copperheads over their nominations.

DETROIT, July 9.—The Republicans here are satisfied with the New York Convention. They like Seymour and Blair as men to beat. They are delighted with Chase's treatment.

WASHINGTON, July 8.—The nomination of Seymour and Blair gives great satisfaction to the Republicans, nearly all of whom pronounce it the weakest ticket that could be put in the field. There was a scene of real enthusiasm on the Republican side of the House when the result became known, and the general testimony is that it was the best day's work for the Republican party since the Chicago Convention. The ticket is spoken of as the Republican and Rebellion ticket, and everybody is ringing the changes on Grant's letter for peace and Blair's letter for war. The Democratic Congressmen are disgusted and didn't even make a pretense of being pleased. The nomination fell upon them like a wet blanket, and they at once began to gather in [illegible] little groups for comfort and consolation. Those from the West freely admit there is no show for success, and some say it is not worth while to go into the contest. Two or three living in close districts, who hoped to get aid from the New York Convention, openly announce that it is useless to run again with the weight of such nominations to carry. Some of the Democrats will probably rally in the course of time, but the first effect of the Convention's action is that of extreme disgust and despondency. Everybody sees that the [illegible] campaign are [illegible] and that the Democracy [illegible] of the [illegible] type.

ATLANTA, Ga., July 9.—The rebels are trying to have a big time tonight over the nomination of Seymour. Howell Cobb and B. H. Hill are arousing the old rebel Democracy [illegible] at Davis' Hall. An attempt at a bonfire has been squelched by a heavy fall of rain.

HOW MOSAICS ARE MADE.—A traveler writing from the Continent says:

The Mosaics seems to absorb the most time and money in the least space, and so it be the gold decorations. We saw a table last week less than six feet in diameter which has cost two hundred thousand dollars, requiring the labor of a large number of men for fifteen years. On entering the hall where this kind of work is done, I could not doubt these enormous figures. Suppose, for instance, a thousand of the hardest and most expensive stones, which will take on a high polish, to be cut into pieces three eighteenths of an inch thick. These pieces are cut the other way into small pieces like shoe pegs, and when [illegible] from one color to another is all but imperceptible, must not be larger than a needle. Now the artist cuts and fits [illegible] their colors [illegible] the [illegible] work [illegible] as though painted. These [illegible] be fitted so closely that lines [illegible] will not show, and set upon end side by side like type. They claim that ten thousand different shades of color are necessary, and in order to do this kind of work a man must be like the colors and shades as a painter [illegible] the colors properly, then be the most [illegible] accurate mechanic [illegible] and then he must have patience enough to work on the cheapest and coarsest pictures [illegible] and upon a fine one from ten to twenty years.

A CLEVELAND (Ohio) paper says that a [illegible] was [illegible] two years ago [illegible] which the [illegible] [illegible] now varies from six to twenty [illegible] her bi[illegible]

Planchette

[From the Philadelphia Ledger, June 24.

Those of our readers who haven't heard already of the new institution called "Planchette" will undoubtedly soon be amused or puzzled, as the case may be, by its appearance, as it is already largely for sale at several offices. It consists in a simple oblong or sometimes heart shaped board about eight inches long by six or seven wide, and a quarter of an inch thick, supported on wheels or castors on which it moves freely when pushed, and has a soft pencil fastened into one end. The work of this pencil is the mystery of the whole. It is declared that when placed on a sheet of paper and lightly pressed by two persons for a few minutes it will trace on the paper an answer more or less intelligent or correct to any answer a third may propose. It is also asserted by some that the past and the future are equally revealed, and that distance creates no difficulty, the wonderful manitou of these teller matters passing to the other side of the world being as certainly made known as those in the same room. Marvellous stories are told of the supernatural powers of Planchette by its admirers, such as making known the doings of friends in other towns, replies and various other miraculous information, such as is usually expected from mesmerism, spirit rappings and the like, while on the other hand some do not hesitate to pronounce it an imposture, and to declare that, having followed all the directions minutely, they are unable to extract a word of any sort from the reticent machine. A writer in Chambers's Journal is especially severe on what he calls the "three legged impostor," and though acknowledging that marvellous tales were told him by two friends who were eye witnesses, one an accomplished lady and the other a scholar of quickness and humor, and who he thinks certainly believed them to be true, yet disbelieves the whole of it, because he could never succeed in any such efforts at conversation.

It appears to be of French origin, its name signifying a little board, and it is known to [illegible] both Russian and Spanish courts. In England one maker says he has sold four hundred and sixty six Planchettes, besides sending several abroad. This maker declares that the wood must be good, hearty stuff and well dried, but declines to give any other advice as to its construction. However, it is now conceded that they can be made by any ordinary carpenter, and we recently saw a very simple one in this city, made of a piece of a cherry board, in the shape of a heart, the dimensions being as above, the two little castors being of brass, and placed under the broad end of the heart, while the pencil was placed at the point of the heart.

The author of a volume on Planchette, published in England, gives minute instructions for its use, by the observance of which, he thinks, most persons may in time become confidants of its mysteries. It is not maintained by any that all the answers given are true, or that any person, however successful he may be in its use, can put implicit reliance in its teachings. There are various theories as to the remarkable little companion, some maintaining that the influence is mesmeric, others that it is electricity, or some unknown connection between the brain or nervous system of the operator and the board so lightly touched by his fingers. There are some, of course, who will attribute it all to supernatural causes, and some who utterly refuse the least credence to any of the mysterious results affirmed.

These latter just now occupy the safest ground. It seems to be clear that in the cases when "Planchette" moves without being mischievously or designedly impelled by the operator, that the influence is magnetic, just as in the case of "table-moving" under similar conditions. It is but proper to say that whenever experiments with the toy have come under our observation, the writings of "Planchette" have either been such as would puzzle even a Champollion to decipher, or else they have been so manifestly the work of the operators for the purpose of creating merriment, mischief and laughter, that no one could be deceived into the belief that either spirits or any other supernatural agency have anything to do with them. "Planchette" is an amusing toy and nothing more.

General Grant's Appearance in Battle

[From Deming's Life of Grant.]

Poetry and painting have so idealized the appearance and bearing of great commanders in action, that the popular sentiment is apt to be disappointed if a General is not always represented with a prancing charger, waving plume and the "grand air" of Washington in Leutze's picture, or Frederick on the last review. The difference between the ideal and the real is well exemplified by David's painting of "Napoleon Crossing the Alps," representing him on a charger rampant, attempting to scale a precipice, contrasted with the well known fact that he actually crossed the mountains seated upon a mule led by a muleteer. Versifiers have represented Marlborough and William as turning thousands to flight by their single prowess and dyeing rivers with the blood of their enemies, or winning battles merely by the strength of their muscle and skill in the [illegible]. Macaulay intimates that such description might do when battles were won as in Homer's time by chiefs encased in celestial armor, one of whom could with ease hurl rocks which two sturdy hinds of a later period could not lift, but that we must reject them since war has become a science and a trade, and battles are won not by the hand but by the head. When an officer heads a forlorn hope or a charge it is undoubtedly his duty to assume the most animating and inspiring attitude, and if he is the man for the place he will be on the lead with the waving sword and other ministering incitements to audacity; but a General in Chief, commanding at the engagement, heads no charges; it is his duty to watch all the chances, to supervise all the movements, and in the "midst of confusion, uproar and slaughter, examine and dispose everything with the serene wisdom of a higher intelligence." His true attitude is one of intent and rapt reflection, ready to move, but not on a perpetual caracole, and the tragedy airs are out of place, and indicate a pretender rather than the genuine master of battle.

Except in Grant's extreme simplicity no such grand and statuesque attitudes. It is said of Lord Raglan that, beyond and apart from a just contempt for mere display, he had a strange hatred of the outward signs and tokens of military energy. Versed as old in the real war, he knew that the glitter of a General briskly galloping hither and thither with staff and orderlies did not necessarily imply any mental resolve, and that the aids de camp swiftly shot off like arrows from a bow were no sure signs of despatch or decisive action. Grant likewise despises all such flourishes. He is neither brusque nor insinuating in his manner to the soldiers; he returns the salute [illegible]. He neither calls them by name nor makes them a speech. His bearing in battle is subdued rather than excited, calm instead of enthusiastic. He selects the standpoint most serviceable for oversight. He moves where the stress of battle calls him. His attitude, which is most comfortable, and his manner both to officers and privates, as simple and unassuming as if he were bartering about the price of sole leather over the counter at Galena. His dress is habitually more unostentatious than his behavior, consisting of the regulation undress uniform, without sash or belt. On this warm day his coat is unbuttoned. He wears a low crowned felt hat, with not any badge upon it of military rank or distinction.

It is unquestionably true that this extreme simplicity of carriage and plainness of speech, the absence of external parade and the "grand air" [illegible] his demeanor in battle so uncommonly [illegible] pretending [illegible] veiled for a season from the eyes [illegible] the genuine military ability and force of Grant as a commander. Sherman understand him more, but his manner disguises his value from such devotees to high [illegible] West Point etiquette as Halleck and Buell.

While a number of little [illegible] were playing [illegible] Mississippi river [illegible] at [illegible] the [illegible] was [illegible] at [illegible]

Senator Yates on Gen. Grant.

THE WAY THE LATTER OBTAINED A COMMAND AT THE BEGINNING OF THE WAR.

[G. A. T. writes to the Cleveland Leader.]

In pursuit of information about General Grant I called on Senator Richard Yates at the Avenue Hotel last Sunday. He is a Kentuckian by birth, fifty years old, a blue-eyed [illegible] distinguished frame and head, and of pleasant simplicity and sincerity of speech, more slow than plausible, and as I believe the less artful and the most candid of Senators.

He was a farmer's son, and his larger political life began in 1842, since which time he has risen steadily grade by grade to the office of Governor and at last to the Senatorship. Illinois loved him heartily, and he stood among the highest and best of war camps and at Washington during those exciting times, when he equipped and sent to the front two hundred and eighty two regiments of men, affected his sanguine temperament, and in the relapse of peace his nervous system felt the result. The same was the case with most of the war Governors. Brough, Hicks and Andrew died; Morton is paralyzed, Curtin had to hasten to Havana and Europe to keep alive. Governor Yates was instrumental in the election of Trumbull, his colleague, and he gave Grant his first volunteer command.

"Grant," said the Governor, "came down to Springfield dressed in common working clothes. He looked very much as he does now, ordinary, taciturn, unpretentious. When he presented himself to me he said:

"Governor, the United States educated me; I want to be in use to her now that she is in danger."

Yates asked him what he wished to have.

"Any place where I can be useful," said Grant; "it don't matter much."

The system at that time was to commission only officers who had raised companies. Yates, hurried to overrun, told Grant to look in again. After a few days Grant, whose money had nearly run out paying hotel board, dropped in again, hat in hand, and asked Yates if anything had turned up.

"Can you write military orders?" asked the Governor.

"Yes."

"Well, I'll give you a desk in my office, and you'll find plenty to do."

"There," said Yates, "Grant worked away satisfactorily, though my hands were full and everything was more or less disorganized. I had no time to observe him and he was never forward to speak. Afterward I put him in the Adjutant-General's office, and although we did not know particularly at the time, we have found since that he laid the foundation there of what is now probably the best Adjutant-General's office in the United States. Before the war it was nothing. During all this time Grant was seldom in my mind. I had too much to do to keep personal watch over every officer in the State, and did not look out particularly for the Coming Man. But Grant made no mistakes, and I saw that his West Point knowledge was useful to us.

Near by Springfield, there was a large camp, termed Camp Yates, containing twenty thousand, perhaps. It was a source of annoyance to me. I could not find anybody to keep the men subject and see that they were made clean, properly fed and taught the germs of organization. I sent Grant out there, and pretty soon complaint ceased. Then I sent him on a tour to various camps through the State, but still I had no command to give him under the arbitrary system of giving only those places who had raised organizations. He went away, at last, to visit Covington, Kentucky, where his father lived. I did not like to see our Illinois boys enter the service of another Commonwealth, and I found a chance directly to displace a Colonel, or rather to send him to a different command, and then I telegraphed to Grant:

"Will you take command of the Regiment?
Answer. RICHARD YATES."

Grant replied:

"I will Start immediately!
U. S. GRANT."

"He arrived promptly and took the position. Still, I had no exalted expectations of him. He was not a brisk, nervous, attractive man. His face and figure were not so striking that anybody could pick him out of a troop, like Saul, and he did not say enough to interest me. Out of 282 Colonels that I commissioned I thought it as probable that 281 of them would become famous as Grant.

"He did one thing, however, which I have since thought was significant of his future good sense and enterprise. His regiment was the most demoralized one that we had in Illinois. It had become insubordinate and allowed to go to seed. Grant started the process of breaking it in by compelling it to march across the State of Missouri, and he was the first of our Colonels who had economy and pluck enough to save us the delay and expense of railway transportation in this manner. In this march he stopped straggling and orchard robbing, by a device original, good humored and effective. He made every straggler carry a fence rail in line, and as the march itself was tolerably laborious the fence rail did the work. He made a fine fighting regiment of those men."

After speaking on many other trivial matters, Gov. Yates said in conclusion:

"Hero-worshippers will be disappointed in Grant. I don't take it to be any stolidness of mine that failed to perceive genius in him. Nobody else did. His genius is not ostentatious nor dramatic. It is the genius of accomplishment that he has. When his work is done there it is done, and there is the man, except for the work, ordinary as before. I don't make up for this error of perception by visiting the General twice as much now as before. But in the light of his achievements, I feel the same confidence and satisfaction in him that all the people feel. The Democrats feel it too. He has no enemies in our State but politicians, and one or two personal ones like McClernand. We will elect him with ease."

GENTLENESS of heart is man's best treasure, his brightest [illegible], and his [illegible] acquisition. It is a ray of divinity that dignifies humanity, attracts admiration and assimilates him to his Maker, but [illegible] be counterfeited.

Democratic Twaddle

The National Democratic platform repeats the stale twaddling charge against the Republican Union party that it has dissolved the Union and subjected ten States in time of profound peace to military despotism and negro suffrage. Since the time when the Democracy, after the actual close of the late rebellion discovered that it would be safe as a matter of policy to cautiously and [illegible] admit the heresy of the doctrine of secession this charge has been uttered in some form by every Democratic newspaper writer and stump speaker and by every precinct county State and National Convention on every possible occasion. In view of the sympathy which the Democracy everywhere and at all times gave the rebels in their efforts to divide the Union forever by force of arms the charge is most shameless and impudent as well as most intensely dishonest. The ten States have not been represented in Congress because they were taken out of the Union by Democratic rebels their governments as established under the Constitution of the United States, were destroyed by Democratic rebels and other State governments were set up, deriving whatever authority they had, from another confederation and constitution. The close of the war, the triumph of the Union and the defeat of the Democratic rebellion found these States in such condition. They could not be restored to the old status by merely saying "presto, change." Some arrangement, some mutual understanding as to the terms of the renewal of old relations, had to be agreed upon. Congress in its sphere and the Union people of the country, in theirs, set to work to effect such an arrangement as not only should restore the States to their proper relations with each other, but make it impossible that there should be another rebellion or any mistake in the future as to the meaning of the general compact. Since this work began there has not been a day nor an hour when the Democracy has ceased to oppose reconstruction and the restoration of the States. No question has been presented, in any way connected with the admission of the ten States, or any one of them to representation, but it has met the persistent opposition of the Democracy in Congress, in the Presidential chair, and among the people. Seven of the ten States are now fully restored to all the civil rights and privileges enjoyed by the always loyal States, and their representatives are occupying seats in Congress. They have reached this, through the efforts and votes of the Republican Union party against the votes of Democratic representatives and Senators and the veto of the President who is a tool and servant of the Democratic party. Mississippi, which lately refused to come in, did it at the instigation of Democratic politicians, and Democrats everywhere rejoiced when they heard of her refusal, while with the same breath they howled anathemas upon Congress [illegible]. The [illegible] States were not long ago represented in Congress is entirely due to the obstacles placed in the way by the Democratic party and their President. And yet they repeat and echo and re-echo the charge that the Republican Union party have dissolved the Union and kept ten States out! Considering the fact that these carpers, while opposing every plan or part of plan presented in Congress, have never proposed any definite plan of reconstruction beyond the general declaration that all the States should be made equal, this, and all kindred charges against the Republican Union party sink to the level of contemptible twaddle and are as false as they are weak.

The Kind of Men that Nominated Seymour

The New York Herald mentions among the men who were the most noisy, active and clamorous for distinguished consideration in the New York Convention, such names as General Forrest, of Fort Pillow massacre fame; Gen Wade Hampton, of South Carolina; James Chesnut, a seceding United States Senator and Member of the rebel Congress; ex-Governor Manning, of South Carolina, a member of the State Convention that voted that State out of the Union, M L Bonham, member of the rebel Congress, R Barnwell Rhett, same, Judge Aldrich, South Carolina, removed from office by General Canby for open hostility to the Government, Gen Preston, late of the Confederate army and others of like ilk. The Herald, as tough as is its stomach, got terribly sick at the presence of such a crowd and at the manner in which they were toadied to by the Northern Democracy and lampooned them in the following style:

> They came out as fresh, as fierce, as contemptible, and as impudent as ever, in view of the assembling here of the Democratic Convention. They were all in the city, and all writing savagely Southern letters to their home admirers, in forming those people generally of their own consequence.

But, after all, there was nothing in the associations of that convention so very much out of keeping with Democratic habits. It was simply a meeting of Southern rebels who fought while they could to destroy the Union, and Northern sympathizers who intrigued at home to the same purpose.

TRUE AS STEEL.—The New York World says "During the last seven years of agony New York has been true to Democracy." Yes! New York was never truer to Democracy than when in 1863 the draft was resisted and innocent and unoffending people were murdered by a Democratic mob never truer than when the present Democratic candidate for the Presidency promised his "good friends," the thugs and murderers, that the Government should not draft them that he would see to it that the Government should get no more soldiers in that way in New York. New York was never truer to Democratic practices than during the last year when, without excuse for it her debt has been increased $3,000 000. The tax lists of the present year foot up nearly $25,000,000 a fact which shows not only that New York has been true to Democracy, but that the Democratic [illegible] of buzzards who infest all the offices have been true as steel to themselves.

Clubs to promote the election of Grant and Colfax, called "The Tanners" have been organized in New York. The regalia is a leather apron.

The Owyhee Avalanche says that a trout fishing mania has seized upon all the people of Silver City.

FROM OWYHEE

The Owyhee paper of the 18th contains the following:

Jacob Westenfelter died yesterday morning from the effects of wounds received in the [illegible] ing affray between himself and Andy Schrader on the evening of the 6th. As far as we can learn Schrader was justifiable.

The Oro Fino steam hoisting works recently put in operation on the mine, work splendidly. The shaft and drifts were all filled with water which would [illegible] first evening. Joe [illegible] an able and experienced mining superintendent from Virginia Nevada, has taken charge of the mine. We understand that a large force of laborers will be put to work immediately to take out ore.

Samuel Lockhart whose demise we announce this morning, died from the effects of a bullet wound received in his left arm on April 1st, at the time Marion Moore was killed and others wounded. Mr Lockhart's arm was amputated and strong hopes of his recovery were entertained but always having been accustomed to an active outdoor life, confinement in bed caused rheumatism to set in and after suffering much pain he departed this life on Monday morning last.

Work has been resumed on the Pauper. The shaft has been cleared of the water which had accumulated by the melting of the snows. The Pauper is a promising mine, and we understand will be thoroughly prospected this summer.

Capt Palmer has just come down from above Gravelly Ford. He confirms a report received through Indian sources a few days ago that Col Coppinger and the Idaho Road Company's party had encountered some Indians near the sources of the Owyhee and killed three and captured several squaws and pappooses.

STATE ITEMS

Senator Williams has sent out some valuable books for the Masonic Lodge Library at Salem.

The schooner Alaska sailed on the 11th inst from the Umpqua river, with a cargo of wool for San Francisco.

The farmers of Umpqua valley are now in the midst of harvest. Crops are unusually good. Hay is worth eight dollars per ton.

The Unionist says: "Business seems to have been a little livelier this week, judging from the genial smiles that several of our business men wear."

Rev Father Bouchard, has been holding a mission, the last week at Roseburg. The Ensign accords to him the possession of zeal, eloquence and reasoning powers of the highest order.

Secretary May has just received a lot of law books for the State Library—mostly N Y Reports—for which an appropriation of $600 was made the last Legislative Assembly.

Says the Roseburg paper: S F Chadwick and A A Fink returned from Bohemia leaving the balance of their party there. They report everything lovely in that camp, about seventy five men there, work on several ledges being done arastras being built, etc.

The track of the Central Pacific railroad, says the Sacramento Record, is now laid to a point 17 miles beyond Wadsworth, and the work is being pushed forward at the rate of two and a half miles per day. The road is graded far out on the Humboldt, and with a level country ahead, will be pushed forward with amazing rapidity. Wadsworth is a new town, one hundred and eighty nine miles from Sacramento City. The trip overland to Chicago can now be made in eleven days, by stage and rail. The Humboldt Register says: By the middle of August the cars will be at the first crossing of the Humboldt river, five miles above Lovelock's. By the first of October the citizens of Winnemucca will be greeted by the iron horse. Before election day bullion will be shipped from Gold Run district on the cars, and we will wager a basket of champagne that Charley Crocker will beat the Union Pacific to Salt Lake, and that in eighteen months the two great commercial cities of the Atlantic and Pacific will be united by rail. Then clear the track for cars which will open up, between the summits of the Sierra and Rocky mountains, the richest mineral region on the face of the earth.

Professions vs Practice

It was resolved by the Democratic National Convention:

"That our soldiers and sailors who carried the flag of our country to victory against a most gallant and determined foe, must ever be gratefully remembered, and all the guarantees given in their favor, must be faithfully carried into execution."

A sufficient commentary on the sincerity of Democratic gratitude to soldiers, is contained in the fact that Seymour vetoed the bill passed by the New York Legislature, authorizing the New York soldiers to vote.

The Democracy of Idaho are in a delightful state of brotherly harmony. Little Jimmy O'Meara is hurling all sorts of lilliputian thunderbolts at the heads of a score or so of bolters, who in turn are exposing a few of the charmingly moral tricks by which Jimmy and other Democratic leaders have put moneys into their purses and, withal, have kept tight grasp on the offices. Wonders and curious devices and disgracefully vile things are coming to light as rapidly as the members of the happy family can tell on each other. Take it all in all, the family pot in Idaho is just now in about as lively state of eruption as the most ardent broth-maker could possibly wish to see.

POSTAL.—We recently adverted in a short paragraph to the negligence of certain postmasters and mail contractors with the view of bringing the matters mentioned to the notice of all parties concerned, that the abuses might be corrected. The paragraph, however, was seized upon by the Olympia Transcript and made the text of a bitter and undeserved tirade against the Postal Agent. We will say to the Transcript that our item was not written with any view to censure the Postal Agent, and that we do not concur with its expressions in relation to that gentleman, but still adhere to the opinions respecting his efficiency which we have heretofore expressed.

The Oregon Railroad Bill

A letter from Washington, July 1st, to the Eugene Journal says:

Our Oregon railroad bill, for the branch from the Pacific railroad in Nevada to Portland, cannot be reached this session for want of time. But it is quite certain that it can be passed next session if it is properly managed and pressed with vigor. In the meantime the people of Oregon should give it such encouragement and support as may lie within their power. The great benefits to be derived from the success of this enterprise are so manifest as to make any argument in its favor seem unnecessary. Opposition to it is evidently based on a misunderstanding, or springs from local jealousies, such as exist against all roads. Mr Mallory has amended the bill and has endeavored to shape it so as to secure the "greatest good to the greatest number," and make it as free from objections as possible.

KEEPING IT UP.—This forcible blow is from the Dramatic Chronicle:

The interior Democratic papers are still keeping up the row about the "shameless conduct" of the Fourth of July orators at San Francisco, Sacramento and Stockton, in mentioning the name of Grant. If these indignant patriots, whose fine sense of Fourth of July amenities is so shocked by the mention of the names of the heroes of the war ought in consistency to urge that all the pensions and bounties granted to the soldiers of the Union ought to be suspended as an unjust discrimination between the blue and the gray.

It is estimated that the leading crops of California now maturing, will yield of wheat, 20,000,000 bushels of oats, 2,200 000 bushels, of barley, 10,000,000 bushels of hay 5[illegible]0,000 tons.

The great measures contended for by the Republican party for several years past are now the fundamental law of the land and it is not too much to say, can never be destroyed.

Alumni Association of Wallamet University

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

At the annual meeting, in Salem, of the Alumni Association of Wallamet University, held during the present week Mr C T Finlayson delivered the annual address, and Mrs J C Shelton read an essay, both of which were productions of great merit.

After the close of commencement exercises on Thursday evening, the class of 1868 were welcomed into the association by the President, Mr F H Grubbs, in an eloquent and telling though brief speech.

During the session there were between forty and fifty members present, and communications were received from many who could not attend. A constitution was adopted and a permanent organization effected. Miss E J York, the first graduate of our alma mater was elected President of the association for the ensuing year, and a Vice President from the class of each succeeding year, as follows, to wit: Mrs C G Curl, Mrs J C Shelton Mrs J K Gill, Mrs M E Smith, Miss S J Wythe and Miss Dora Lamson. Mrs C W Parrish was chosen Secretary, Mrs P S Willis, Treasurer, and F H Grubbs and P L Willis Executive Committee.

Mr S C Simpson was selected by the association to deliver an address, Mrs C G Curl to prepare an essay and Mr S S Simpson a form for the next annual meeting.

The annual meeting is fixed by the Constitution on the evening preceding the commencement exercises of Wallamet University.

Throughout the session Mrs G Berry presided at the piano with her usual skill and marked effect, and was, at times, assisted by Mr J K Gill with his violin, while the ladies of the association vied with each other in discoursing stirring music.

At 10 o'clock on Friday evening a sumptuous lunch with ice cream and its usual attendants, was served, which was willingly and amply dealt with by the members and invited guests.

Altogether, the session was a most pleasant affair, and all that any member present seemed to regret, was, that all who had passed the ordeal of graduation at Wallamet University, and their teachers, were not present to participate.

The President was directed to furnish the Unionist Herald, OREGONIAN and Advocate an abstract of the proceedings.

P S WILLIS,
Secretary

Salem, Oregon, July 25, 1868

A LOCK, STOCK, AND BARREL WANTED.—Speaking of the position of the Democratic party on the great questions before the country, Harper's Weekly places the matter in this clear light, and we call the attention of honest Democrats to it and ask them if they do not know that every word is true:

The condition of the Democratic party, in view of its approaching National Convention, ought to be enough to satisfy the country whether it can safely be entrusted with the Government. When a great party in a free country questions the principles and opposes the policy of its opponent maintains a vigorous criticism, and demands power in order to prove that its own principles and policy will more surely secure the public welfare, it occupies a position which is at least consistent and in a moment of fatigue or doubt or disgust may succeed in supplanting its adversary. But when a party says that it does not exactly know whether it has any principles and cannot determine who represents its policy one day insisting that it had better acquiesce in the policy of its opponent as a settled result and the next that it had better do no such thing it offers a ludicrous and contemptible spectacle.

That is precisely the position of the Democratic party. It does not know whether to fight or retreat or surrender. It cannot resolve whether a radical Republican or a peace Copperhead is its better candidate. It cannot decide whether to declare the question of reconstruction closed or to reopen it altogether. It wants to denounce equal suffrage, and it is afraid to say anything about it. This is one of the most interesting and important epochs in our history and the Democratic party cannot make up its mind what to think about it. Last autumn it triumphantly shouted that the great reaction had begun, and now it considers whether the points shall be conceded against which it declared the reaction to be directed. Its Convention does not know whether its inspiration shall be relentless hostility to the war as a wicked outrage or approval of it as a necessary exercise of legitimate authority.

While a party which within a week of its Presidential nomination has no common conviction, and no defined policy, and is distracted among candidates who represent radically hostile and irreconcilable principles is merely a body of conspirators who doubt whether they can best secure possession of the church plate by piously kneeling and is seeking worshippers waiting their opportunity of plunder or by boldly bursting in and revealing their true character as desperate robbers.

A BEAUTIFUL sentiment is this: Over all the moments of life religion scatters her favors but reserves the choicest, her divine blessing, for the last hour.

By Overland Telegraph.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO JULY 26.

Congressional

WASHINGTON July 25.—In the House, the Senate bill relative to the Western Pacific Railroad Company was discussed and some amendments [illegible]. The House refused to [illegible] the previous question on the passage and the bill was [illegible] to the Committee on Public Lands. (Put [illegible] After railroad company may [illegible] ceding the Island of Yerba Buena or Goat Island in San Francisco Bay, for the use of the company.)

The Speaker laid before the House the President's veto of the Freedmen's Bureau Bill. The message having been received the bill passed over the veto by 115 against 23 and the Speaker declared it a law.

The Senate bill to extend the custom laws over Alaska was amended and passed.

Confirmations

WASHINGTON July 25.—There are the following additional confirmations: Consul Alvin Hawkins at Havana; Agent W W McCauley, for the [illegible] Indians of Montana; Michael Quintard [illegible] of Indians in New Mexico; [illegible] for the Consulate of Valencia; J A Clark Surveyor General [illegible] W J Cullen Superintendent of Indian Affairs in Idaho and Montana; H C Worthington, Minister resident at Uraguay; F A Perkins, Commissioner [illegible] at [illegible]; A S [illegible] Governor of Wyoming; Omar F [illegible] of Indiana Secretary of Wyoming Territory. The Senate unanimously confirmed Elisha Foote Commissioner of Patents; Milligan, of Tennessee, Judge of the Court of Claims; Henry M Watts of Pennsylvania Minister to Austria; Silas Axtell [illegible] for the third district of California; O H Burnham, as Assessor and [illegible] as Collector in the [illegible] district of California. The President has sent to the Senate the nomination of Holland Smith as Postmaster from San Francisco.

The bill for the [illegible] of the rights of American citizens abroad with an amendment that [illegible] by any foreign government [illegible] the President is to use any means not amounting to actual war to effect their release, passed by [illegible].

In the House the Ways and Means committee reported a bill for preventing the Secretary of the Treasury from paying any commission on sales of gold or securities, which passed.

The bill passed repealing any legacy or succession tax.

J W [illegible], C H [illegible], W P Edwards and Samuel F Gove Representatives from Georgia were sworn in and took their seats.

Hamilton, of Florida, offered a resolution for the impeachment of the President. Referred to the Judiciary committee.

The Senate amendment to the bill for the protection of citizens abroad was concurred in.

The select committee of investigation into the alleged corruption in the impeachment trial was discharged.

The Speaker presented a letter from the Clerk McPherson showing that the purchase of stationery for the House had been made on the best terms for the Government.

The Baltimore Flood

BALTIMORE, July 25.—The losses by flood yesterday amounts to several million dollars. The following firms are among the sufferers: Heald & Co's Tannery, $20 000; Dunn, Miendis & Co Machine shop, $5,000; Woods, Weeks & Co $30 000; Fisher Bros, $10 000. The west walls fell, causing heavy loss.

At Ellicott's city the destruction of life and property was great. Thirty houses were swept away. Some containing whole families were also carried away with the current and drowned. Several bodies were recovered to day. The following are reported as drowned, all of Ellicott's City: William Patterson, wife and son; Mrs Warren and her two grand children; Fanny and Emma Duvall, Wm Reese, wife, son and daughter. The family of Dr Owens and a number of others whose names are not given.

The losses of property at Ellicott's City are Gambrill's Lower Patapsco flouring mill, entirely swept away; the upper mill entirely swept away; Granite Cotton mill of Bedford (some of the walls of which were twenty feet thick, and cost $160,000), are a total mass of ruins; Gray's Cotton Factory is considerably damaged. The Union Cotton Mill, about a mile above Ellicott's City, is badly damaged and much cotton lost. The Avalon mills and Iron Works, near Relay House were swept away. The loss of life in Baltimore City is not known to exceed four. Only that number of bodies are as yet found. There is no doubt that [illegible] were swept into the river.

In the Senate

CHICAGO, July 27.—The Senate held a Sunday evening session. The lobbies were filled with office seekers looking for confirmation.

Mr Warner, Senator elect from Alabama was sworn in.

Mr Sherman made a report from the Committee of Conference on the funding bill, which was concurred in. It authorizes the issue of bonds, running thirty or forty years, of the denomination of 10 or multiples of that sum, bearing interest in coin rate of 4½ per cent for thirty year bonds and 4 per cent for forty year bonds. It exempts all from taxation, said bonds to be exclusively used for the redemption of five twenties. Section two appropriates from duties on imports $135,000,000 annually, to be applied to the payment of interest and the reduction of the principal of the debt. The third section prohibits the payment of any commission for registrating the sale of these bonds.

Mr Henderson made a personal explanation and severely denounced Butler's report on behalf of the impeachment managers in regard to Senator's impeachment. He said the other six members of the committee had nothing to do with the report. He denounced the investigation as the petty work of malice and calumny, disgraceful to its authors and disgraceful to Congress. He said that Butler suppressed the important points of the testimony and distorted and perverted facts for malicious purposes.

The Senate went into executive session. The President nominated Alexander Cummings as Commissioner of Internal Revenue, J W Johnson Assistant Secretary of the Treasury and Gen Rosecrans Minister to Mexico. The Senate has confirmed Holland Smith as new Deputy Postmaster of San Francisco.

From Panama.

NEW YORK, July 26.—The news from Aspinwall is unimportant. The provisional government continued in the possession of Panama. There has been no fighting. It is expected that Diaz will be banished to San Francisco on the next steamer.

The Flood in Maryland

BALTIMORE, July 26.—Thirty seven persons were reported drowned at Ellicott's Mills and six in Baltimore. The river is jammed with the wrecks of thirty houses, factory fixtures and every species of property.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE

PARIS July 25.—The Corps Legislatif passed the bill assigning four million francs in rentes as a partial satisfaction of the claims of holders of French Mexican bonds.

LONDON July 26.—The following has been received from Rome: The police have discovered a mine to blow up the fortifications on Mount Aventine. Two sentinels were recently attacked in the night and wounded. The police have seized a quantity of red and black Garibaldi shirts. The licenses have been taken away from all the wine shops in Roman Campagna.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH

SAN FRANCISCO, July 27.—Private dispatches have been received in town announcing that the Senate has indefinitely postponed the McGowaban claim. This is probably the end of that scheme of land grabbing.

The [illegible] of this city held an immense picnic [illegible] day. All the places of business were [illegible] noon and everything passed off successfully.

A Democrat on Some Democrats

Here is what "Miles O'Reilly" a Democrat says in the New York Citizen about the late James Buchanan and two of his Secretaries:

We don't often agree with the Radical members of Congress but in one point they have our heartiest sympathy to wit, in their refusal to endorse the ability and patriotic motives which this radical body (ex President Buchanan's) long career [illegible] service. If he had "a policy" then he was a traitor of the worst and foulest dye when permitting John B Floyd to strip every northern arsenal of its arms and to place every southern fort under command of officers who had been especially selected for such service by Jefferson Davis and the other chiefs of the secession conspiracy. In Major Anderson it is true they made one mistake, but he was appointed to Fort Sumter because of Kentucky birth, and because those who knew him best, or thought they knew him best—General Gustavus W Smith and others—gave assurance that he might be relied on to act as he cast his lot with the revolting States. Again if Mr. Buchanan had "ability," we denounce him as a traitor for having permitted that double dyed traitor Isaac Toucey of Connecticut to scatter the navy of the Union to the utmost ends of the earth just before the rebellion so that when the act of secession was attempted, our national government might have no maritime means for proceeding to its prompt suppression.

PROBABLY.—The Hamilton (Ohio) True Telegraph says: A New York punster challenged a sick man's vote at a recent election on the ground that he was an ill legal voter. Probably it was the same person who challenged a squint eyed voter, because he was not naturalized.

CITY.

Money Market.

San Francisco Legal Tender rates	$7 ¾
New York Gold Quotations	141

GROWTH OF THE CITY.—[illegible] improvements that are [illegible] In all parts of the city residences [illegible] the streets graded and walks built [illegible] With proper management [illegible] control of the public [illegible] assume the appearance of a handsomely laid out and well regulated city. At the present there are some things which we hope will not last long, such as allowing the streets and sidewalks to be constantly blockaded with dry goods boxes, refuse lumber, etc., obstructing the passage of travelers and giving the streets in many places the appearance of a lumber yard. Also along the city front underneath the wharves are accumulated a vast amount of filth which is most certain to breed disease and death as effectually as [illegible] To our city fathers we would say these things ought not so to be. It is a good time now to attend to such matters and give our growing city that name for health and cleanliness abroad which her natural advantages afford.

SCHOOLS.—We learn that Prof. Franbes, late principal of the public schools of this city has been elected Professor of Mathematics in the Willamette University at Salem. Prof. F. has accepted the position and will enter upon the discharge of his duties on the 14th of September, at which time the school opens. Mrs Franbes is also engaged as a teacher in the academic department of the same institution. These eminently successful and worthy instructors have long been engaged in the schools of Portland, and we in common with the entire community regret their departure from our city. We have no doubt that the good people of Salem will be gratified by the change, which [illegible] to a place among them. Rev J [illegible] Deardorff has also been chosen Professor of Natural Science in the [illegible] city. We hear that Mr. Franbes will be succeeded here by Professor J [illegible] of the school at M [illegible] ville. Mr J is a regular graduate of Yale College and comes well recommended as a thorough instructor. He will be assisted by Prof R K Warren late of Albany and already known to the people [illegible] teacher.

DISORDERLY.—We learn that some persons created a disturbance at the camp meeting at Powell's Valley last Sunday. A man went out from Portland with refreshments and told the managers he had nothing to drink stronger than soda water and with that understanding they agreed to let him stay provided he would close his shebang during the preaching. Failing to perform his part of the agreement they hustled him off the grounds in short order. It was supposed from the jolly appearance of some of his customers that his soda water was adulterated with something stronge. At [illegible] the [illegible] some [illegible] by the [illegible] He was finally quieted and matters thereafter passed off without further disturbance. [illegible] who think it [illegible] the law by disturbing religious assemblies should be dealt with severely and learn the point of law and thereby learn a lesson.

BUSINESS.—Yesterday was quite a good day for business in Justice Wick's court, Central Portland Precinct. The following cases were disposed of:

Two actions by the State of Oregon against John Doe for larceny of a pick valued at six bits. In one there was a jury trial; verdict not guilty. In the other a nolle pros was entered by the State. Mason for plaintiff Bybee for defendant in each case.

State of Oregon vs Ah Cum, a Chinawoman, charged with stealing $20. Jury trial; verdict not guilty. Farrish for the State, Hodgkinson for defendant.

Everding & Farrell vs R. Steadman, civil action; judgment for plaintiffs.

Everding & Farrell vs N J Owens; civil action; judgment for plaintiffs.

CIRCUIT COURT—UPTON JUDGE.—The following were the proceedings, yesterday, in the Circuit Court:

Torrence vs Strong administrator [illegible] Logan & Shattuck for plaintiff and Wm Strong for defendant.

Martha S Scott vs E R Scott demurrer to complaint [illegible] Mitchell, Dolph & Smith for plaintiff and Stout & Reed for defendant.

H. A. Hogue et al vs Henry Ludwig, judgment on report of [illegible] for plaintiffs $526.74 Hill and Mulkey for plaintiffs and Stout and Thayer for defendant.

The jury was discharged from further attendance, and all the actions at law pending, were continued until next term.

PHONOGRAPHY.—W H Shaw, Esq will shortly open a school in this city for the benefit of those wishing to apply this useful art. To those desirous of acquiring a knowledge of short hand reporting, we would recommend Mr. S as an attentive and competent instructor. He early and obligingly offers to give instructions in his line to editors and printers at half price. It is said that there are not more than one hundred and seventy-five short hand reporters in the United States.

[illegible] COME.—By the steamer yesterday morning about three hundred Chinamen arrived in this city on their way to work upon the East Side Railroad. A more squalid, filthy looking set of creatures than they were it never has been our lot to witness. The time will come, and we believe soon, when the community will demand their rights in regard to this wholesale importation of pestiferous wretches who add nothing to the material interests or prosperity of the country.

EXPECTED.—The steamer Continental sailed for this port on Friday last and may be expected here this evening. Owing to the prevalence of the small-pox in San Francisco it would be well for the citizens of Portland to see due precaution upon the arrival of each steamer and see that the necessary steps are taken to prevent the [illegible] of this contagious disease should any case be found on board.

COMPLETED.—The buildings of Moffit & Strowbridge on Front street, between Yamhill and Taylor are about [illegible] They are receiving the last coating of paint [illegible] at the hands of McDougall and Clements and as soon as this done, they will be ready for occupants. [illegible] buildings were erected under the supervision of [illegible] Windsor, and are among the most ornamental and [illegible] improvements made in our city this summer.

AT VENDUE.—The goods, wares and merchandise of [illegible] "Medicine man" of the Celestial persuasion were offered for sale by A B Richardson yesterday [illegible] See Fan not having succeeded in the healing art to his entire satisfaction, has perhaps concluded to [illegible]. So mote it be, say we to him and all his race.

[illegible]—Gov Woods and family are at St Helens, where they arrived on Saturday from Astoria having been on an excursion to the coast for the benefit of the Governor's health which we are glad to learn has somewhat improved by the trip. He will come up to this city on the Couch to-day.

JUSTICE'S COURT.—In Justice's Court North Portland precinct, J O Waterman Justice, the following proceedings were had yesterday:

[illegible] Whaling vs N Noland, civil action to recover [illegible] judgment for plaintiff J G Chapman for plaintiff Stout & Reed for defendant.

EXTRACTED.—The ball which caused the death of Geo [illegible] was extracted from his leg on Sunday by Dr Davenport. The ball was found to have entered the leg some three or four inches above the knee and passing downward lodged in the bones of the ankle.

IMPROVEMENTS.—The Board of Directors have taken advantage of the vacation in the schools to make some very necessary improvements and repairs upon the schoolhouses of this city. The Central building is being well painted and refitted in fine style.

MATCH GAME.—The Pioneer Base Ball Club go to Vancouver this morning to play the first game of a match made between that club and the Washingtons. We predict that this will be a strong contest and the Pioneers will have to look out for their laurels.

THE CHINAMEN who arrived on the Active yesterday were consigned to the Hudson Bay Company at Victoria but not needing them at present that company sent them to Wa Kee & Co of this place to be put to work on the East Side railroad.

HUNTING.—Several young men from this city started for the Cascade mountains yesterday morning on a hunting excursion. From their accoutrements they appeared to go with a serious intention of bringing home a great quantity of game. We shall see.

RECORDER'S COURT.—In this court, yesterday T. Lyons, for defacing a building and making himself obnoxious generally was sent up for ten days. Jim Carry for being drunk and disorderly, got five days board at the city jail.

U. S. DISTRICT COURT.—James Field vs Ida Squires et al; demurrer to the complainant's amended bill, overruled, and defendants allowed until 2d Monday in August to file answer. Court adjourned without day.

AGENT.—We learn that W. W. Skinner has been appointed Soliciting Agent for the O C R R Co (west side) and that he will at once begin the work of encouraging the people to aid in this enterprise.

THE SUCCESS.—The fine little steamer built at Canemah, by Capt. Baughman will make a trial trip on next Saturday. We doubt not but that under the efficient management of Capt B. she will achieve what her name indicates.

WILLAMETTE FREIGHTS.—By the Alert yesterday 600 sacks wheat, 430 sks feed 100 sks flour 2 sks bacon 4 bales woolens 1 pkg [illegible]

THANKS.—We are indebted to Purser Shively of the Active for late files of Victoria papers.

EVERYBODY seems to provide himself with a Fourth of July Hat since that of whatever has set in which keeps Meussdorffer very busy making them.

THE BROADWAY STYLES of Boys Hats received per last steamer and for sale by J A Daly 103 Front street.

HOSTETTER'S

CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS!

A Pure and Powerful Tonic,

Corrective and Alterative, of wonderful efficacy in Diseases of the STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS.

PROTECTIVE PROPERTIES.

Prevents Fever and Ague and Billious Remittent Fevers; Fortifies the System against Miasma and the evil effects of unwholesome water. Invigorates the organs of digestion and the bowels,

Steadies the Nerves and tends to Prolong Life.

REMEDIAL PROPERTIES

Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Sick and Nervous Headache General Debility, Nervousness Depression of Spirits, Constipation Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Sea Sickness, Cramps and Spasms and all complaints of either sex arising from Bodily Weakness, whether inherent in the system or PRODUCED BY SPECIAL CAUSES.

NOTHING THAT IS NOT WHOLESOME, GENIAL, and restorative in its nature enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind; no deadly botanical element no fiery excitant but is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this Tonic and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia, and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless aperient as well as upon the liver it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habit liable to Nervous Attacks Lowness of Spirits and Fits of Languor find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is conclusive and from both sexes.

As a Genuine Tonic HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness Premature Decay and Debility and Decrepitude arising from old age it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.

Last but not least, it is the only safe stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acrid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

[illegible]

As the election approaches we may look for a large crop of spirited campaign songs. One of the first (then which appeared in the N. Y. Dispatch) rings with a vigorous and stirring strain as follows:

Hurrah for Old Appomattox! Hurrah for Old [illegible]
With him we whipped the [illegible], and a song [illegible] we chant
We'll rally round his battle flag, the flag of Union true,
And drive the Rebel Gray again, for the Boys in Blue
Oh, he knew the Boys in Blue, [illegible] he knew the Boys in Blue,
And with ballots as with bullets he will find them ever true
And the Graybacks and the Copperheads will learn the truth anew
That our Yankee lads will never forget the wearing of the Blue

They may weep for Stonewall Jackson and of Lee they still may vaunt
While we shout for Old Appomattox and vote for General Grant
They may sympathize with Davis, or uphold his beaten crew
But no rebel Gray shall ever stay the loyal Boys in Blue
Oh, we trust the Boys in Blue, Oh, we knew the Boys in Blue
And they'll never flinch or give an inch, whatever work they have to do,
So, bring on your Rebel Gray again, and give us but a view,
And we'll show you that we don't forget the wearing of the Blue

Colfax and Lincoln

MR. COLFAX AT THE DEATH OF MR. LINCOLN

[Washington Cor. of the Cincinnati Commercial.]

The day that Mr. Lincoln saw the last of earth he asked Colfax, whom he warmly esteemed and relied upon, to accompany him to the theatre that night. It was the day but one before Colfax was to start on his Rocky Mountain trip.

Colfax replied, "It is impossible, sir, all my time is engaged."

"What kind of a play is this 'American Cousin,' Colfax?" asked the President.

Mr. Colfax said it was just the thing to be amused with and made forgetful of one's self.

"Then," said Lincoln, "here is a little message I want you to carry to the miners. Let me read it to you."

And while they waited at the office door, Lincoln read to Colfax his last composition in this world, and then placed in his side coat pocket.

"Good-bye!" said Lincoln. "I'll telegraph you at San Francisco."

That night Colfax, going home from a visit to the Postmaster General, who lived, I believe, in the Speaker's present residence, passed by the Metropolitan Hotel. Seeing a crowd there, he hurried by, as is his wont when there are indications of a quarrel, but a man cried:

"Colfax!" The Speaker stopped.

"The President has been murdered!" said the man.

The Speaker laughed in his face.

"Why, I left him," he said, "not more than an hour ago."

"Well, sir! I was in the theatre myself and saw him shot."

At the word "theatre" Colfax saw it all. He hailed a cabman, and was driven rapidly to the White House. There he dismissed the carriage. Ringing the bell, the porter said that there was no doubt the President was murdered, but his body had not come home. The Speaker walked with Senator Conness down to the little brick house where Mr. Lincoln lay dying, and being admitted, stood by the martyr till daylight. Soon after, the life of Lincoln expired.

This accident links Mr. Colfax to Lincoln as closely as Grant, and both were probably nearest the Emancipator's thoughts when he received the disappointed actor's bullet. Tom Taylor is a pleasing, but not extraordinary, dramatist; the "American Cousin," however, by reason of its association with Lincoln's death, will probably keep the stage as long as the mock drama in "Hamlet." It belongs to history not to literature.

When Colfax saw Lincoln so shortly before his murder, he was accompanied, I believe, by Representative Howard. The topic of conversation was Lincoln's rescinding of his permission for the Legislature of Virginia to assemble. As reconstruction is now being fully consummated, I may refer to this.

The element of mercy in Lincoln's nature hastened prematurely the business of pacification. He gave permission, under pressure, for Letcher and his entire Legislature to assemble at Richmond. When he came back to Washington, Stanton assailed him on this point, and demanded that he revoke it. They talked together till Stanton sweat through his shirt, and moistened his pocket handkerchief with the perspiration of his face.

Lincoln, therefore, said to Colfax:

"Stanton says I have been behaving wrong, Colfax. I guess he is right, and here's the telegraph message, wherein I let him have his way."

The rebel Legislature never assembled, and the principles of Stanton prevailed, "that loyal [illegible] shall govern a redeemed republic."

LOSS OF THE SUWANEE.—The Victoria Colonist gives the following particulars of the loss of the Suwanee:

On Tuesday morning, the 9th inst., at a quarter past six o'clock, while proceeding through Shadwell Passage, Queen Charlotte Sound, NW coast of British Columbia, taking the inside channel, or that on the west of Centre Island, the Suwanee struck on a rock, the existence of which was previously unknown. The channel is represented on the charts as clear of danger, and the directions on entering it in the Vancouver Pilot book [illegible] distinctly state the passage to be clear on either side of the Island. The rock on which the vessel struck is about 150 yards from the westside of the island, and as already stated, is not marked. Unfortunately, soon after the accident, the tide fell rapidly, and the vessel broke to pieces, and may be considered a total wreck. The water was perfectly calm at the time. The captain, we understand, exonerates all parties from blame.

FALSE.—The St. Paul Pioneer is wrong when it asserts that the Democrat tells the Jews that "if they oppose General Grant's election they will be punished for it." We do say that they have a perfect right to oppose him or not as they see fit. But we also say that any combination of persons of a peculiar faith or race to oppose a candidate for reasons peculiar to persons of that faith or race tends to break down in the minds of the people that scrupulous regard for religious liberty and that independence of race distinctions which make American freedom peculiarly precious. Teach people to regard any church as a political body, teach them to feel that persons of any race are governed in political actions by considerations apart from those of the general welfare, and you sap the very foundations of our freedom.—St. Louis Democrat

How to preserve ice for a considerable length of time, for domestic purposes and especially for the sick room, is told by an exchange thus: Make two bags of stout woolen fabric, the inner one should be ten inches wide by fourteen inches deep. The outer bag should be made two inches wider each way. After placing one bag inside the other, stuff feathers between the two and sew the two bags together at the top. Put a block of ice into a bag of this description and it will be preserved from melting for nearly a week, when under exposure it will melt in less than an hour.

TAKE AYER'S PILLS for all the purposes of a purgative, for Constipation, Indigestion, Headache and Liver Complaint. By universal accord they are the best of all purgatives for family use.

SOOTHING AND BRACING.—There is no preparation in existence which has such a soothing effect in cases of nervous excitement as DR. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. Although the fame of this renowned invigorant rests mainly on its astonishing cures of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint and Intestinal disorders, it is equally efficacious in nervous complaints. Thousands of ladies resort to it as a remedy for hysteria, fluttering of the heart, nervous headache, vertigo, general debility and all peculiar disturbances and derangements to which as a sex they are subject. It cheers and lightens the depressed mental powers as well as strengthens the body, and its use is never followed by any unpleasant reaction. Sold by all Druggists and dealers everywhere.

READ THE FOLLOWING:

PORTLAND, OREGON, July 14, 1868.

P. D. MOORE, Esq., Sir—

The undersigned having witnessed the exhibition in this city yesterday of your "Extinguisher," or Portable Self Acting Fire Engine, would state that the first experiment of a fire kindled outside of the building erected in the rear of the Central Public School House, made by using shavings, staves, tar, &c., was effectually extinguished with one machine in a short time, that the second experiment of a fire in the inside of the building made by using shavings, kerosene, staves and dry stuff, was also promptly extinguished by the use of one machine in less than three minutes. The third experiment was left to the control of the Fire Department, under the direction of the Chief Engineer, and the building was fired inside and outside, and when the fire was well under way the Chief Engineer gave the order to "extinguish," and the fire was effectually put out in about six minutes. A brisk breeze was blowing at the time, and we pronounce the experiment successful and satisfactory. We are satisfied that the "EXTINGUISHER" is very valuable for what it claims, namely, the prompt extinguishment of fires in their earlier stages, and being portable, self acting and always ready at a moment's notice, would, if generally introduced, save much valuable property from destruction, and we regard it as a valuable auxiliary to the Fire Department. They are indispensable in those localities where no steam or other fire engine is in use, and we recommend their use generally in dwellings, stores, hotels, and public buildings.

Very respectfully,
W. H. WEED,
Chief Engineer Portland Fire Department.

ON BOARD THE 'ALASKA,' Portland, July 18, 1868.

P. D. MOORE, Esq.—Sir: I have just returned from witnessing the operations of your "Extinguisher," or Portable Self-Acting Fire Engine, and confess I was both surprised and highly pleased with its success.

I have no doubt whatever of its efficiency and adaptation to putting out fires in their earlier stages, however combustible the materials may be that are burning. Its action on a flame is really magical. They should be in every house of any value, or which contains valuable property, as well as on board of vessels. No one can estimate the additional security they give to both life and property. You will please furnish me two of the No. 2 size immediately, for the Alaska, as I sail for Honolulu to-morrow morning. Very respectfully,
E. CALHOUN,
Master of schooner "Alaska."

Notice to Contractors

OFFICE OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF THE ASTORIA CUSTOM HOUSE.

PROPOSALS WILL BE RECEIVED AT THIS Office until July 24th, for building the Stone Foundations and Stone Basement Walls (or so much thereof as the Superintendent may require) for the new Custom House, and furnishing all the materials for the same except the cement, which will be delivered to the contractor on the wharf at Astoria.

These walls are to be of stone and are to be quarried on the north side of the river opposite Astoria, and to be built according to the plans and specifications as rapidly as may be required.

Bidders will state the price per perch for rough stone work, measuring only the actual cubic contents of stone laid in the walls; also, the additional price, per superficial foot, for Pin Hammered work; also, the additional price, per superficial foot, for moldings and rubbed work.

All bids must be accompanied by the bonds of two responsible parties, in the sum of one thousand dollars, conditioned that the bidder will enter into the contract with two approved sureties, in two thousand dollars, that he will execute his contract if awarded to him. The sufficiency of the security to be certified to by the United States District Judge, the District Attorney or the Clerk of the United States District Court, the bond to have a 25 cent revenue stamp affixed. Blank form of bond can be procured at this office.

The Department reserves the right to reject any or all bids if deemed for the interest of the Government to do so, and any bid that does not conform to the above requirements will not be considered.

Bidders will state the price in United States gold coin, and the payments will be made in coin or its equivalent in currency.

Payments will be made monthly, commencing in September next. Fifteen per cent. of the value of all work done being reserved until the contract is fulfilled.

Proposals should be enclosed in a sealed envelope endorsed "Proposals for stone work of Astoria Custom House," and addressed to CYRUS OLNEY,
Superintendent Custom House,
Astoria, Oregon.

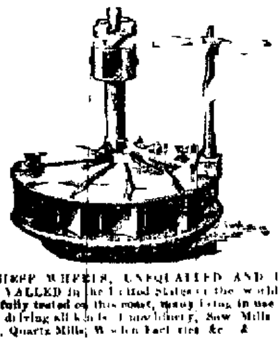
LEFFEL'S

AMERICAN DOUBLE TURBINE

WATER WHEEL!



THESE WHEELS, UNEQUALED AND UNRIVALED in the United States, the world has been fully tested on this coast, many being in use at this date, driving all kinds of machinery, Saw Mills, Flour Mills, Quartz Mills, Woolen Factories, &c., &c.

CAUTION.

To all whom it may concern: I hereby give notice that the so-called Shipley's Pacific Turbine Water Wheel is a direct infringement on, and copy of the James Leffel's American Double Turbine Water Wheel," and its manufacture and use is hereby prohibited. Any person or persons making, using, constructing or vending said Water Wheels make themselves liable to heavy damages and penalties. Parties interested will take notice that I shall prosecute and infringements to the utmost extent of the law.

That all may know I mean what I say and am not playing bluff, I give the full wording of a letter from an opinion on this subject from one of the most eminent Patent Attorneys in the United States:

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 17, 1868.

MR. A. MYERS—In accordance with your request we have examined the patents of Shipley on Water Wheels and are clearly of the opinion that they both infringe the Leffel's patents. In both of Shipley's Wheels he uses the upper and lower tiers of buckets precisely as Leffel does, and in this he clearly infringes. The fact that Shipley has applied another series of buckets in addition so those used by Leffel does not relieve him from the consequences of infringement at all. He has no right to use those two tier of buckets, whether alone or with a third, or any other number of tiers added. It is a clear infringement. Respectfully yours,
DODGE & MUNN.

I hereby give notice that I will prosecute every infringement on our Patents, whether it is the maker, user, buyer or seller. Every infringement, whether our claims are used in whole or in part, will be prosecuted.
A. MYERS.

SWAIN'S PATENT

TURBINE WATER WHEELS!

A. M. SWAIN, AGENT,
North Chelmsford, Mass.

For further information, address—

J. D. SWAIN, Agent,
Batteville, Oregon.

THESE WHEELS ARE MADE OF ALL SIZES are adapted to all heads, high and low, and are warranted superior to anything ever yet invented for the purpose. It received a medal at the great Mechanics' Fair at Lowell, Mass., as eminently adapted to the purpose which it serves.

The following testimonials will be read with interest by all who have occasion to use water:

LOS GATOS, SANTA CLARA CO., CALIFORNIA,
December 10, 1867.

A. M. SWAIN—Dear Sir,—The following tests have been made by us at the dates given. Our overshot wheels were iron rim, iron braced, iron shafts, and as good wheels as we have ever seen. Buckets 7ft long, rim 12 inches deep and 20ft in diameter.

They would not furnish sufficient power to run two runs of machinery on one wheel when buckets were filled with water, hence the tests. I run on each overshot wheel. All our tests were made by measuring the depth of water in a flume and the distance a floating stick would travel in it per minute. All the flour made is our XXX brand using over [illegible] bushels of wheat per bbl.

Feby. 1st, 1867.—Water 13 inches deep in flume 4ft wide, running 168ft. per minute, drives one run on overshot wheel and all mill machinery to make 3 bbls flour per hour—734 cubic feet per minute.

Feby 7th.—Water 17 inches deep, 4ft wide running 180ft per minute, drives 2 runs of stone on both overshots, all mill machinery to make 6 bbls flour per hour—1020 cubic feet used.

Nov 15th, 1866.—Water 9 inches deep, 4ft wide running 156ft per minute, drives 1 run on Stevens' Jonval Turbines under 62ft head, to make 3 bbls flour per hour and all mill machinery, using 468 cubic feet per minute.

Aug. 13th, 1867.—Water 8 inches deep, 4ft wide, running 132ft per minute, drives 1 run on Swain wheel under 56ft head, and all mill machinery to make 4½ bbls of flour per hour using 352 cubic feet of water per minute.

Aug. 20th.—Water 11 inches deep, 4ft wide, running 132ft per minute, drives 1 run on Swain wheel under 56ft head and all mill machinery, except wheat cleaners, to make 3 bbls flour per hour, making 284 cubic feet of water used per minute.

Nov. 2d.—Water 9½ inches deep, 4ft wide running 136ft per minute, drives 2 runs on Swain wheel under 56ft head, and all mill machinery except wheat cleaners, making 4 bbls flour per hour on one run and grinding one ton of barley per hour on the other run, grinding 11,[illegible] lbs of barley in a straight run of less than six hours, using 431 cubic feet of water per minute.

Sept. 25th.—Water 7 inches deep, 4ft wide, running 132ft per minute, drives 1 run on Leffel wheel under 62ft head to make 3 bbls flour per hour and all mill machinery, except wheat cleaners, making 308 cubic feet of water used.

Your wheel (12 inch) will run 775 to 800 turns per minute, and will scull a stone [illegible] 200 easily, and even faster if we dare. Truly yours,
ROGERS & HARRISON.

LOS GATOS FLOUR MILLS,
SANTA CLARA CO., CALIFORNIA,
April 20th, 1868.

A. M. SWAIN—Dear Sir: We have now been using your 12 inch wheel, with bucket 1¼ inches deep, for over one year in our flour mill under 54 feet head. We have made very careful tests with overshot wheels, and find your wheel fully equals the best overshot, even with partial gate, and excels it with full gate. It will run our mill machinery and run up to its full motion with the gate one fifth open, and use water with good economy. We have tested it beside the Tyler, Stevens and Leffel turbines drawing water from the same pipe, and find it superior to them in simplicity of gate fixtures, steady power and great economy of water. After twenty years experience in water wheels and the expenditure of thousands of dollars on different wheels, we would not take any other wheel as a gift if we could not get the Swain, in fact until we have by paying for it at the highest rates. We consider money paid for perfect work on a water wheel that will last for years, for a manufacturer, the best possible investment.

We have great trouble with the Leffel wheel gate in leaking and breaking, as I have to take the gate several times in the six months we have run it, while your gate has never failed to go tight and has never bothered us for a moment. Truly yours, s7tf ROGERS & HARRISON.

CAUTION.

To all whom it may concern.—One A. Myers is publishing a [illegible] statement that my wheel is an infringement on the Leffel wheel and he will "prosecute said infringement to the utmost extent of the Law." His statements are not worth a denial. His game is "Bluff," which he will only take the case to Court would soon be played out. Don't believe it.

I will be glad to get a case into the United States Court and get a decision. This would forever stop the mouth of Myers and his misrepresentations. NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

616 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. [illegible] for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases [illegible] Syphilis in all its forms [illegible] Impotence [illegible] years [illegible] successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousand [illegible], both male and female, are there who are [illegible] from the effects of secret indulgence or from virus absorbed into the system. Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces, their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. [illegible] and situation than sad and unfortunate [illegible] the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life destroying maladies—see that they are cured for and [illegible] to late. Send them immediately to Dr. Gibbon, a physician who has made private diseases his specialty for years and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretenders who are who [illegible], publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self abuse. This solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with the [illegible] the following train of morbid symptoms unless combated by scientific medical measures, viz: sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves, [illegible] of the eyes, uneasiness about the loins, weakness [illegible] the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania, and [illegible] insanity. If relief be not obtained, [illegible] apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by this new and scientific mode of treatment, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of those fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible and will give to each patient a written instrument binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded free from damage and curiosity to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who, with bogus sworn to certificates dupe the unwary. Some of the self styled doctors whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places are tinkers and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are formerly shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory and you will not find their Medical Institutes in it, but you will find their former occupations in it. Look at the Directory for 1862 and 1863. The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry. It will cost you nothing and may save you many regrets, for as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus diplomas or certificates, or printed patient's letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 616 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco. Post Office Box 252.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 252 ON THE LETTER.

Consultations FREE.

Correspondents will please let Dr. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the Daily Oregonian.

HIRAM SMITH'S

Ophthalmic Panacea!

IS WITHOUT DOUBT THE MOST WONDERFUL EYE HEALER that has yet been discovered.

It CURES the most stubborn and hopeless cases of CHRONIC INFLAMMATIONS, GRANULATED LIDS, FILMS, &c., as has been sufficiently demonstrated during the few months in which it has been brought into public notice. The proprietor is so fully convinced of its INFALLIBILITY that he WARRANTS A CURE OR REFUNDS THE MONEY. It can do the eyes no harm, and a trial of it is therefore without injury or expense to the patient if a cure is not effected.

It has cured cases FIVE, SIX, NINE, FIFTEEN and even EIGHTEEN YEARS standing in Harrisburg, Linn county, Oregon, and its vicinity, to which the following persons will bear witness:

R. B. MOORE	NATHANIEL BELL,
A. L. WALLACE	G. R. WARD,

DR. J. C. YOUNG,

Medical and Surgical

INSTITUTE.

 CONSULTATION, IN ALL CASES, FREE.

 CURES GUARANTEED, OR NO PAY REQUIRED.

 IN ALL CASES WHERE CONFIDENCE IS REQUIRED THE UTMOST SECRESY MAINTAINED.

The above rules, established by Dr. J. C. Young in 1850, and which have done so much to secure the reputation of this Institute, are still adhered to, affording those in need of medical aid, the certainty of cure and the utmost confidence.

There is nothing of so great importance to the sick as to know where to find a physician whose skill and humanity give assurance of proper and delicate treatment. The Doctor would respectfully call the attention of those of both sexes who are suffering or in trouble to the invariable success that has marked the career of the Institute in the seventeen years of its existence.

It is unnecessary in this connection to enumerate all the complaints treated at the Institute, but the Doctor feels it his duty to call especial attention to that terrible scourge,

SEMINAL WEAKNESS,

That is sapping with its insidiousness the very life of its victims; in the treatment and cure of which the Institute has earned so enviable a reputation.

READ! READ

I am aware that by dwelling upon [illegible] ject as the decay of manly vigor through the [illegible] vital principle of life, the ignorant may [illegible] tive but the desire to point out to those who [illegible] guish and decay, the true cause of their [illegible] great an incentive to be forced into abeyance [illegible] tended the terrible [illegible] of Seminal Weakness [illegible] one but the practical specialist who devotes his time to the treatment [illegible] can tell; but its presence may be [illegible] the most inexperienced by noting the [illegible] toms. Weakness of the back and limbs [illegible] feelings, loss of muscular power [illegible] cold feet or [illegible] of sons [illegible] short breath [illegible] sion to society; confusion of the [illegible] nightly [illegible] loss, colorless; slight [illegible] least excitement; trembling; palpitation [illegible] regular appetite, variable temper, etc.

YOUNG MAN, if you experience any of the symptoms enumerated above, [illegible] it is the golden [illegible] health and happiness. You may feel [illegible] you have ever practiced the vice of self-abuse [illegible] the SECRET SORROW, you have the seeds of [illegible] system, and their [illegible] sooner or later, dash the fair edifice of your strength to the ground, leaving you a helpless [illegible] wreck [illegible] disease that declares itself at once. [illegible] danger; for while the [illegible] affection of the Heart, Lungs, Brain, or Digestive organs, he sinks into a [illegible] to the list of the [illegible] of the [illegible] Weak.

See in the best form and [illegible] the poor victim of the [illegible] vice! Mark the [illegible] destructive complaint in the hollow cheek [illegible]

Drowsiness is one of the premonitory symptoms [illegible] first it is easily shaken off, but it grows [illegible] great disinclination to pursue his regular [illegible] mind by [illegible] apprehensive, and restless [illegible] days of disease.

It is the nature of the complaint to [illegible] changes that leave the poor victim but little hope of recovery. In a single [illegible] hopes and blast your honest aspirations.

Marriage is sought by a natural impulse [illegible] lief. This is an error of the first magnitude [illegible] tem unprepared for the exigencies of the [illegible] dearly bought, and he finds himself in a [illegible] from which there is but the slightest hope [illegible] Or if the marriage should result in offspring, they are puny, distorted, decrepit, and degenerate. This [illegible] ble to both [illegible] whether married [illegible] time of life.

Do not delay if you feel any of the symptoms of this terrible complaint, or if your acts have been such as to lead to them, but by [illegible] attention seems to only hope of health and happiness. The D[illegible] mercury or other deleterious drugs—cures [illegible] time, always guaranteed, and full and perfect [illegible] stored.

The afflicted are [illegible]

PERSONS AFFLICTED WITH VENEREAL,

During the seventeen years since the establishment of the Institute, the number of cases of Venereal [illegible] been treated, show a record unsurpassed by any [illegible] in the world, and the success that has invariably [illegible] the [illegible] of its treatment,

Without Mercury or other Deleterious

Drugs,

Shows conclusively the use of them to be not only unnecessary, but actually dangerous, for it is a well established medical principle that those poisons [illegible] by entering the blood, ruin the constitution and [illegible] life.

The Doctor effects a cure in recent cases, in a few days, and finds no difficulty in curing those of long standing without subjecting the patient to such [illegible] draw upon him the slightest suspicion, or which [illegible] neglect his business, whether in-doors or without. The diet need not be changed. Cures always [illegible] no pay required.

IMPORTANT TO FEMALES.

When a female is in trouble or afflicted with disease, and requires medical or surgical assistance, the inquiry should be, Where is there a physician competent to give her relief and whose respectable standing in [illegible] will recommend him to the confidence of the community? The Doctor, understanding how [illegible] positively [illegible] requirements are, feels called upon to [illegible] and by calling the attention of the afflicted to the fact that he has been a Professor of Obstetrics and Female Diseases for [illegible] years and is fully qualified to administer to all cases, both medically and surgically, not in a superficial [illegible] but in as thorough a manner as years of study and practice —both in hospitals and private families—can make; to save them from the hands of the unqualified, [illegible] designing. Therefore, families can rely upon him as upon a father. All in affliction can find in him one who can feel and sympathise with and befriend them in [illegible] in whose secrecy the utmost confidence can be placed. Consultation by letter or otherwise, free. Cures guaranteed in all weakness and trouble incidental to the sex. Private apartments are provided, when desired, so that to be had all the advantages of unremitted attention of the Doctor and the most skillful and and faithful nurses.

TO CORRESPONDENTS.—Persons, either male or female, residing in the interior, are often deterred from consulting the Doctor because they cannot spare the time, nor incur the expense of a visit to the city. To such he would say that a plain statement of the symptoms and information bearing upon the complaint will enable him to prescribe for them so that they can be cured at home. Many need have any false delicacy about writing, no matter what the nature of their complaint, as the communication will be seen by no one except the Doctor and will be treated with the strictest confidence and either be returned or destroyed.

Consultation Free.
